

****10. Horses typically survived in the wild using the “fright and flight” reaction. What does this mean?

A: the horse senses danger and runs rather than fight ES p. 57

*****Bonus Question

In what management situation would it be common to give a younger horse a 4 oz Fleet phosphate enema?:

A: to a newborn foal to help pass the first feces or meconium HIH 950-2

11. Which of the following forages would more likely have the highest level of protein if all were considered “good” quality? The choices are: Straw, timothy hay, fescue hay, or alfalfa hay

A: alfalfa hay

12. What is the leg structure that will cause a horse to paddle?

A: Toed in or pigeon toed

13. The very first tooth for a newborn foal is the _____

A: central incisor

14. What is the preferred bedding for a foaling stall?

A: straw HIH 940-3

“Question 15 with a bonus attached” if 15 answered incorrectly the bonus moves to the next question until tossup is answered correctly.

*****15. With the mosquito as the vector, this viral disease of birds, horses AND humans can be fatal as it attacks the central nervous system, but a vaccine can prevent the disease. What is it?

A: West Nile Disease ES p. 180

*****Bonus Question Name 5 white facial markings that might be found on a horse

A: star, stripe, snip, blaze, bald face, apron face, paper-faced or bonnet, combination star/stripes/snip (not connected or connected) ES p. 30

16. The ergot grows on what part of the horse.

A: fetlock (back of ankle could be counted correct) DET 99

17. Sliding plates are used on the back feet of what type of horse?

A: reining horses H Smarts 230-8

18. If you were looking at a concentrate feed bag, what term would be used to label the level of “lipids”?

A: Fat ES p. 143