

Finding the Fun at 4-H Summer Camp

Name
Grade	Teacher
School

Georgia 4-H Camping – How Did It All Begin? 3
4-H Centers – Where You Camp! 4-5
Postcards From Counselors
Write a Persuasive Letter
Conduct an Interview

Let's Find the Fun!

Georgia 4-H Summer Camp is a very special part of Georgia
4-H. After all, kids like you have been part of 4-H Summer Camp for more than 90 years! I'm glad that you're taking your first step toward finding the fun at 4-H Summer Camp, and inside you'll even discover which of Georgia's 4-H Centers you will have the chance to visit! So come hike along with me, as we find out more about the fun waiting for you at 4-H Summer Camp!

Georgia 4-H is a partner in public education and strives to incorporate Georgia Standards in the education materials produced for in-school use. The following Georgia Standards are correlated to the content delivery included in this publication's Finding the Fun at 4-H Summer Camp:

ELAGSE4SL1: Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (oneon-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 4 topics and texts, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly.

ELAGSE4W4: Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development and organization are appropriate to task, purpose and audience.

ELAGSESSL1: Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 5 topics and texts, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly.

ELAGSE5L1: Demonstrate command of the conventions of Standard English drammar and usade when writing or speaking.

ELAGSE6SL1: Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (oneon-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 6 topics, texts, and issues, building on others' ideas and expressing their own clearly.

ELAGSE6L1: Demonstrate command of the conventions of Standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

ELAGSE6L2: Demonstrate command of the conventions of Standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing.

Standards from Georgia Standards, www.georgiastandards.org

Think Green! Not just 4-H Green...but let's help do our part to recycle and reuse. Save this book, reread it or pass it along to a friend. If it's too worn, please recycle it.

CONTRING - CONTRING -

More than 100 years ago, in 1904, Mr. G.C. Adams started the first Boys Corn Clubs in Newton County. Just a few years later, in 1908, the Girls Tomato Canning Club was started in Hancock County. The U.S. Congress passed the Smith-Lever Act in 1914, which brought the Boys Corn Clubs and Girls Tomato Canning Clubs — which were springing up all over Georgia — together.

But when did Georgia's 4-H'ers start going to summer camp?

1918 – At a school in DeKalb County, 25 girls and their leaders canned vegetables, made their own beds of wheat straw, went for boat rides, listened to music, and had a talent show. They called it camping.

√ 1924 — The first camp at Camp Wilkins is held. Carroll and Bartow counties were the first to pay to come to Camp Wilkins. Campers were divided into Indian tribes, did physical exercises, and had flag-raising ceremonies where they sang "The Star Spangled Banner." Camp Wilkins is now the site of the UGA College of Veterinary Medicine in Athens. GA.

1928 – A camp for black 4-H'ers opened in Liberty County and was named Camp Ralstonia for their 4-H agent, Miss Minnie Ralston. 1920s and 30s — Many counties start their own local county 4-H Camps, with facilities in Charlton, Habersham and Union counties, among others.

√ 1937 — A request
to use an abandoned
CCC work camp for 4-H camping leads to the opening of Camp
Wahsega in the north
Georgia mountains near Dahlonega.

1939 – The first 4-H'ers camp at Camp Fulton, near Atlanta. Georgia 4-H would camp here for the next 65 years. 1946 – The City of Savannah Beach (now Tybee Island) donated six acres of land and the Chatham County 4-H Club camp opens the next year. This later becomes Tybee Island 4-H Center, Georgia 4-H's first beach camp.

1948 — The Georgia 4-H Club Foundation was organized to help raise money to support 4-H. The first goal: build a 4-H Camp that could hold 1,000 4-H'ers.

√ 1955 – After about four years of construction, Rock Eagle 4-H Center, on 1,400 acres of land near Eatonton, opened for summer camp. The Rock Eagle effigy mound offers the opportunity to build a theme around the lives of the Native Americans.

1982 — Georgia 4-H's second beach camp opens at Jekyll Island 4-H Center at the site of the old Dolphin Hotel. 1990 – Major renovations at Rock Eagle 4-H Center improve the facility for camping and all the other programs held there. 2004 – Tybee Island 4-H Center becomes Burton 4-H Center on Tybee Island to honor Maxine and Bob Burton for a generous donation to improve the Center. Bob was a 4-H camp counselor.

₹ 2004 − Georgia 4-H, in partnership with the Fortson Camp board of directors, opens Fortson 4-H Center, near Hampton, just south of Atlanta. A community camp had been operating at Fortson for about 40 years before this partnership and continues today.

2014 – The Fortson Board donates the Fortson 4-H Center property to UGA and Georgia 4-H to continue camping and environmental education programs. It is the largest private gift ever received by Georgia 4-H.

Camp Jekyll opens its doors to children in Georgia and beyond. On the original footprint of Jekyll Island 4-H Center, the completely rebuilt Camp Jekyll continues teaching Georgia's children about Jekyll Island's rich environment and diverse wildlife. Georgia 4-H will manage Camp Jekyll in cooperation with the Jekyll Island Authority.

A team of year-round staff at the Centers, super UGA faculty (your County Extension staff!), great adult and teen volunteer leaders, and some really cool college students — mostly former 4-H'ers — serving as camp counselors all work together to get ready for your week of camp. Let's learn more about the 4-H Centers where you'll camp.

The largest 4-H Center in the world (yes, the world!) is located near Eatonton. Join almost 1,000 other 4-H campers as you swim, canoe, sail, play games or enjoy the legend of the great Rock Eagle — a 2,000-plus year-old white, quartz rock mound in the shape of an eagle — and how it came to be. You'll study the life of Native Americans, make crafts, and learn about the ecology and wildlife around the 110-acre Rock Eagle lake.

Wade from beautiful waterfalls into a mountain stream, or go swimming in the pond at the end of the stream. Sleep in a log cabin and listen for the dinner bell. Learn about plants and animals in the hills, streams and forests of north Georgia. You can do all this at Wahsega 4-H Center near Dahlonega, and challenge yourself on the zip line and other adventure activities, too!

Burton 4-H Center on Tybee Island

Beautiful Tybee Island near Savannah, is the site of fun in the sun at Burton 4-H Center. Not only can you play volleyball in the sand or catch some rays on the beach, you can also learn about the wildlife-rich tidal marshes and about the coastal birthplace of our state.

POSTCARDS FROM COUNSELORS

Ninety of the wildest, craziest, most fun college students you will ever meet are ready to be your camp counselors at 4-H Camp next summer. Many of them went to 4-H Camp when they were your age — and many say that's the reason they wanted to be a 4-H camp counselor! A few of them wanted to write you about camp.

Are you ready for the best week ever!?! At 4-H camp, you will have a blast making lifelong friends and making memories that you will never forget. You will get to experience so many new things from high ropes to canoeing. Get ready to hang with some amazing counselors and make this your best summer ever!

Andrew Hunt

Arch Dawg Camp Washega Dahlonega, GA A week at 4-H camp is like

All the funtimes you've ever

all the funtimes you've ever

had, rolled into a single week!

had, rolled into a single week!

had, rolled into a single week!

At 4-H camp you can go

At 4-H camp is like

To get ready

To mie Babecka

To mie Babecka

4-H camp is AWESOME! You get to make SO many new friends, all while having fun! Zipline, canoeing, arts and crafts, swimming, and classes about nature are some of the awesome things to do at camp!! Maybe you'll be able to hold a snake for the first time!

Steph Busse

Going to 4-4/ Camp for the first time in fifth grade was an awesome experience. I made so many out with fun counselors. World for me! Come to you'll have the time of your life!

Anna Morris

My weeks at 4-H camp

And could changed my life and could change yours too! I tried so change yours ton! I tried so change yours ton! I tried so many new things while making many new things while metal ifetime!

Friends I'll have for a lifetime!

Swimming, singing, cheering, and friends in my counselors exploring with my counselors and friends taught me to be and friends taught me to be that I can be! Can't the best that I can be!

Wait for you to join us!

Wait for you to join williams

Harrison Williams

4-H camp is the best week of the year! Who wouldn't love a week with your friends, meeting new counselors, and experiencing new things? You will definitely make memories you will remember for the rest of your life! Come yoin the fun this summer, we can't wait to meet you!

Megan Beckett

Wow! You really want to go to 4-H Camp. But how do you get the decision-makers in your home — mom, dad, grandparents, or whoever has to say "yes!" — to allow you go to camp next summer?

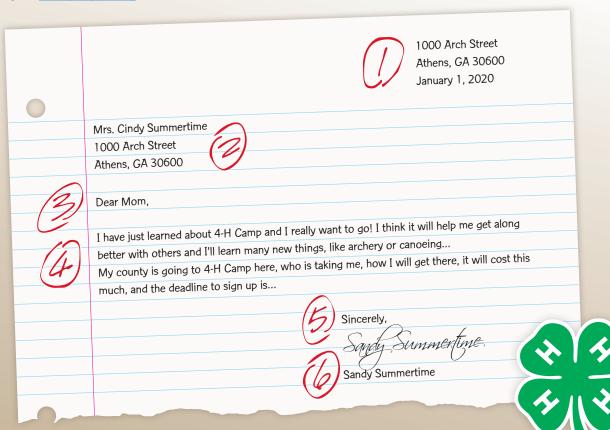

You could just beg. Or, you might consider sending a persuasive letter. A persuasive letter is a type of letter that, many times, is written to complain about a problem or situation and offer a possible solution. Say, for example, you heard the Candy Co. is about to stop making your favorite candy. You might send the Candy Co. a persuasive letter, stating your opinion — "Please don't stop making Giant Gummy Worms!" — and offering your suggestions on how to solve the problem.

Your persuasive letter for 4-H Camp would be used to make your case for why you should be allowed to attend 4-H Camp this summer; but, no matter what decision you're trying to influence, a persuasive letter usually has these six basic parts:

- 1. Heading Your address and the date.
- 2. Inside Address Include the name of the person you are writing to (we know you normally don't live at the same address as the person you're writing, but it's OK for your camp letter).
- 3. Salutation Saying hello to the person you're writing (it's OK to say Mom or Grandpa or Aunt Jane in your camp letter you'd normally use Mrs. or Mr. or Dr. or another title in a persuasive letter).
- 4. Body The main part of the letter. This is where you state your opinion, offer solutions, or write whatever you think will make the person do what you want to be done. In your camp letter you might simply write why you want to go to camp. You might also write when and where your county is going to 4-H Camp, who is taking you, how you will get there, how much it will cost, and when is the deadline to sign up. These details might be very important to your "decision-maker." Your 4-H leader has the answers to these questions.
- 5. Closing Saying good-bye. "Sincerely" is the most common way to say good-bye in a letter, but if you want to say "Love" in a letter to mom, dad or another relative, they'd probably appreciate it.
- 6. Signature Sign your name under the closing, or if you're using a computer sign your name over your "typed" name.

Good luck with your letter. We hope it works because we really want to see you at 4-H Camp!

4-H'ers, Share your persuasive letter with us, AND YOU JUST MIGHT WIN A SCHOLARSHIP TO ATTEND CAMP! To find out more, go to www.georgia4h.org.

Still trying to decide if you want to go to 4-H Camp? One thing you might want to do is find an adult who has gone to 4-H Camp, or any summer camp for that matter, and ask them some questions. An interview is a great way to learn about a topic you are interested in — you don't have to be an ace news reporter to be a good interviewer.

Here are some steps to follow:

Make a list of questions you have about camp. Here are some examples: Did you ever go to camp? When did you go? What did you do at camp? What was your favorite activity? Did you have a favorite person or counselor at camp? Did you go to 4-H Camp? Did you do other things in 4-H?

- Politely ask for an interview with an adult you know and schedule a time to talk to them.
- Make a recording or take notes of their answers to your questions.
- Thank the person you interviewed for taking the time to answer your questions.

Hopefully, the answers you get from your interview will convince you of how much fun 4-H summer camp really is!

Thank you for taking time to review this publication with your child.

Please help your 4-H leader know that you have learned more about Georgia 4-H.

P	are	nt/	Guai	neibr	Sia	nature
	are		Guai	ulali	JIH	nature.

Date

Even though most of them would do it for free (just ask them!), your 4-H Camp Counselors get paid to work at camp. For many counselors it's their first "real" job, and their first chance to practice some skills used in seeking jobs like:

- Submitting an application—a paper form that lists education, abilities, and strengths
- > Providing references—people to contact who know the kind of job you will do
- > Interviewing—answering questions face to face about the job and your skills

Many 4-H camp counselors will tell you the counselor selection process helped them improve these job-seeking skills.

Many former counselors, after having other jobs, will say being your 4-H camp counselor was the best job they ever had!

REFERENCES AND RESOURCES

Georgia Performance Standards, www.georgiastandards.org | http://www.studyzone.org/testprep/ela4/h/persuasivel2.cfm
Lowry, R. Research Notes for Georgia 4-H History. | Adapted from: University of Georgia Cooperative Extension Service. (1999)
Friends. Jeff Sallee, Extension 4-H Specialist & Roger C. Ryles, State 4-H Program Leader

Compiled and Written by: Charlie Wurst, State 4-H Extension Faculty

Contributing Writer: Mandy B. Marable, State 4-H Extension Faculty

Contributing Editor: Megan Beckett, Extension 4-H Administrative Specialist

Andrew Hunt, Jamie Babecka, Steph Busse, Anna Morris, Harrison Williams

4-H Summer Camp Counselors

Design and Layout by: Brandon Duncan, Bulldog Print + Design

Laura Perry Johnson, Associate Dean for Extension Arch D. Smith, State 4-H Leader/Director of 4-H

Sam Pardue, Dean and Director, College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences

Departmental Publication 4-H FM-02

Printed Winter 2020

The University of Georgia and Ft. Valley State University, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and counties of the state cooperating. Cooperative Extension, the University of Georgia College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences offers educational programs, assistance and materials to all people without regard to race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability.