

Georgia 4-H programs empower young people to be well-informed and engaged citizens by teaching the importance of social responsibility, respect, and compassion for others. Through hands-on action and activities with adult mentors, 4-H'ers learn leadership, empathy, communication, and organization while expanding decision-making and interpersonal skills. 4-H youth are taught about the importance of giving back, improving our communities, and gain a solid foundation that will allow them to continue life long community service.

"I have always said that my favorite aspect of 4-H was its diversity-of people, programs, and experiences. Regardless of our backgrounds or intests, there is something in 4-H for any and every one of us... and I don't know where I would be without it." Mason McClintock, Bacon County 4-H'er
