

The foods they
consume

Barred owls likely obtain
their water needs from where?

Answer on page 78

Answer on page 78

What does the
mourning dove
eat?

grass and forb
seeds

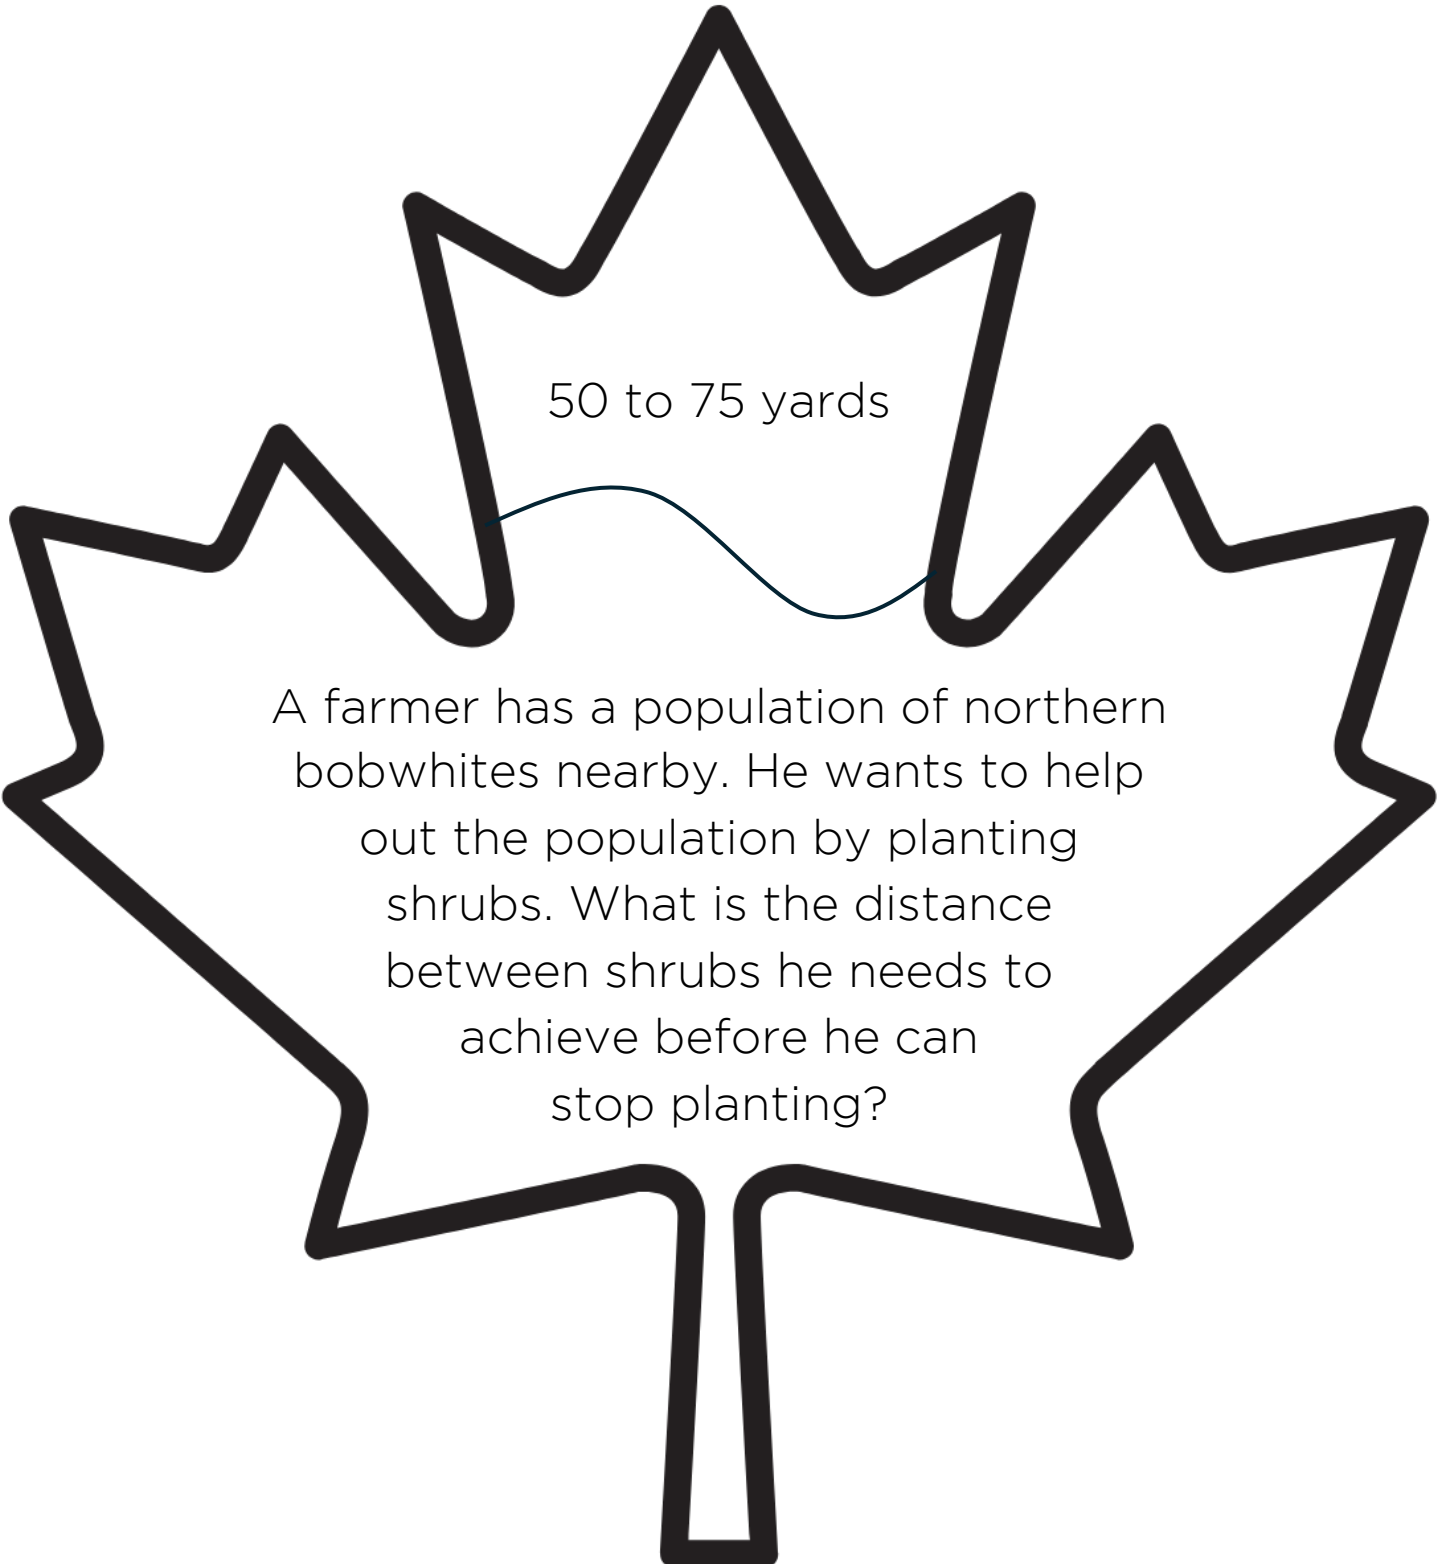

Answer on page 121

for foraging

Why do mourning doves need open ground space?

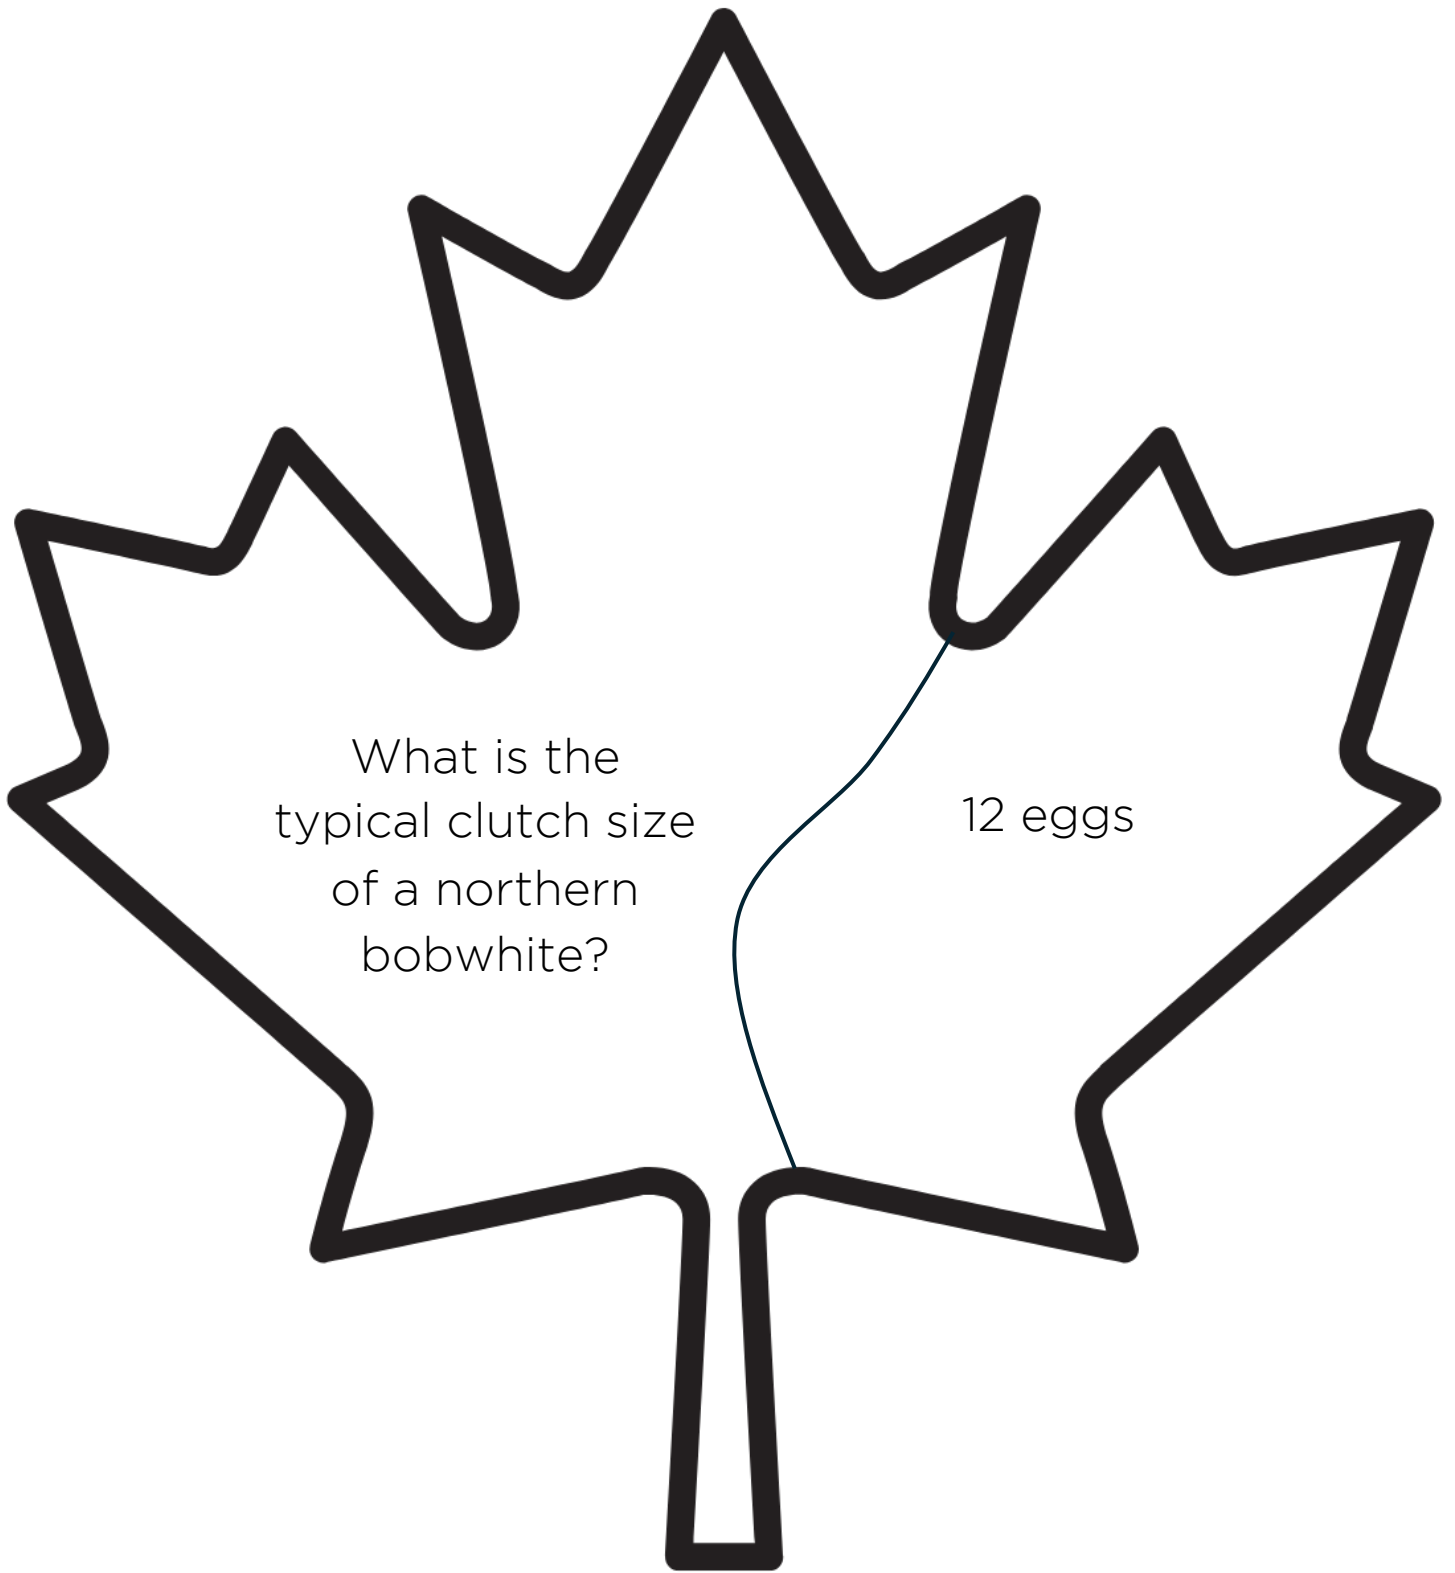

Answer on page 121

50 to 75 yards

A farmer has a population of northern bobwhites nearby. He wants to help out the population by planting shrubs. What is the distance between shrubs he needs to achieve before he can stop planting?

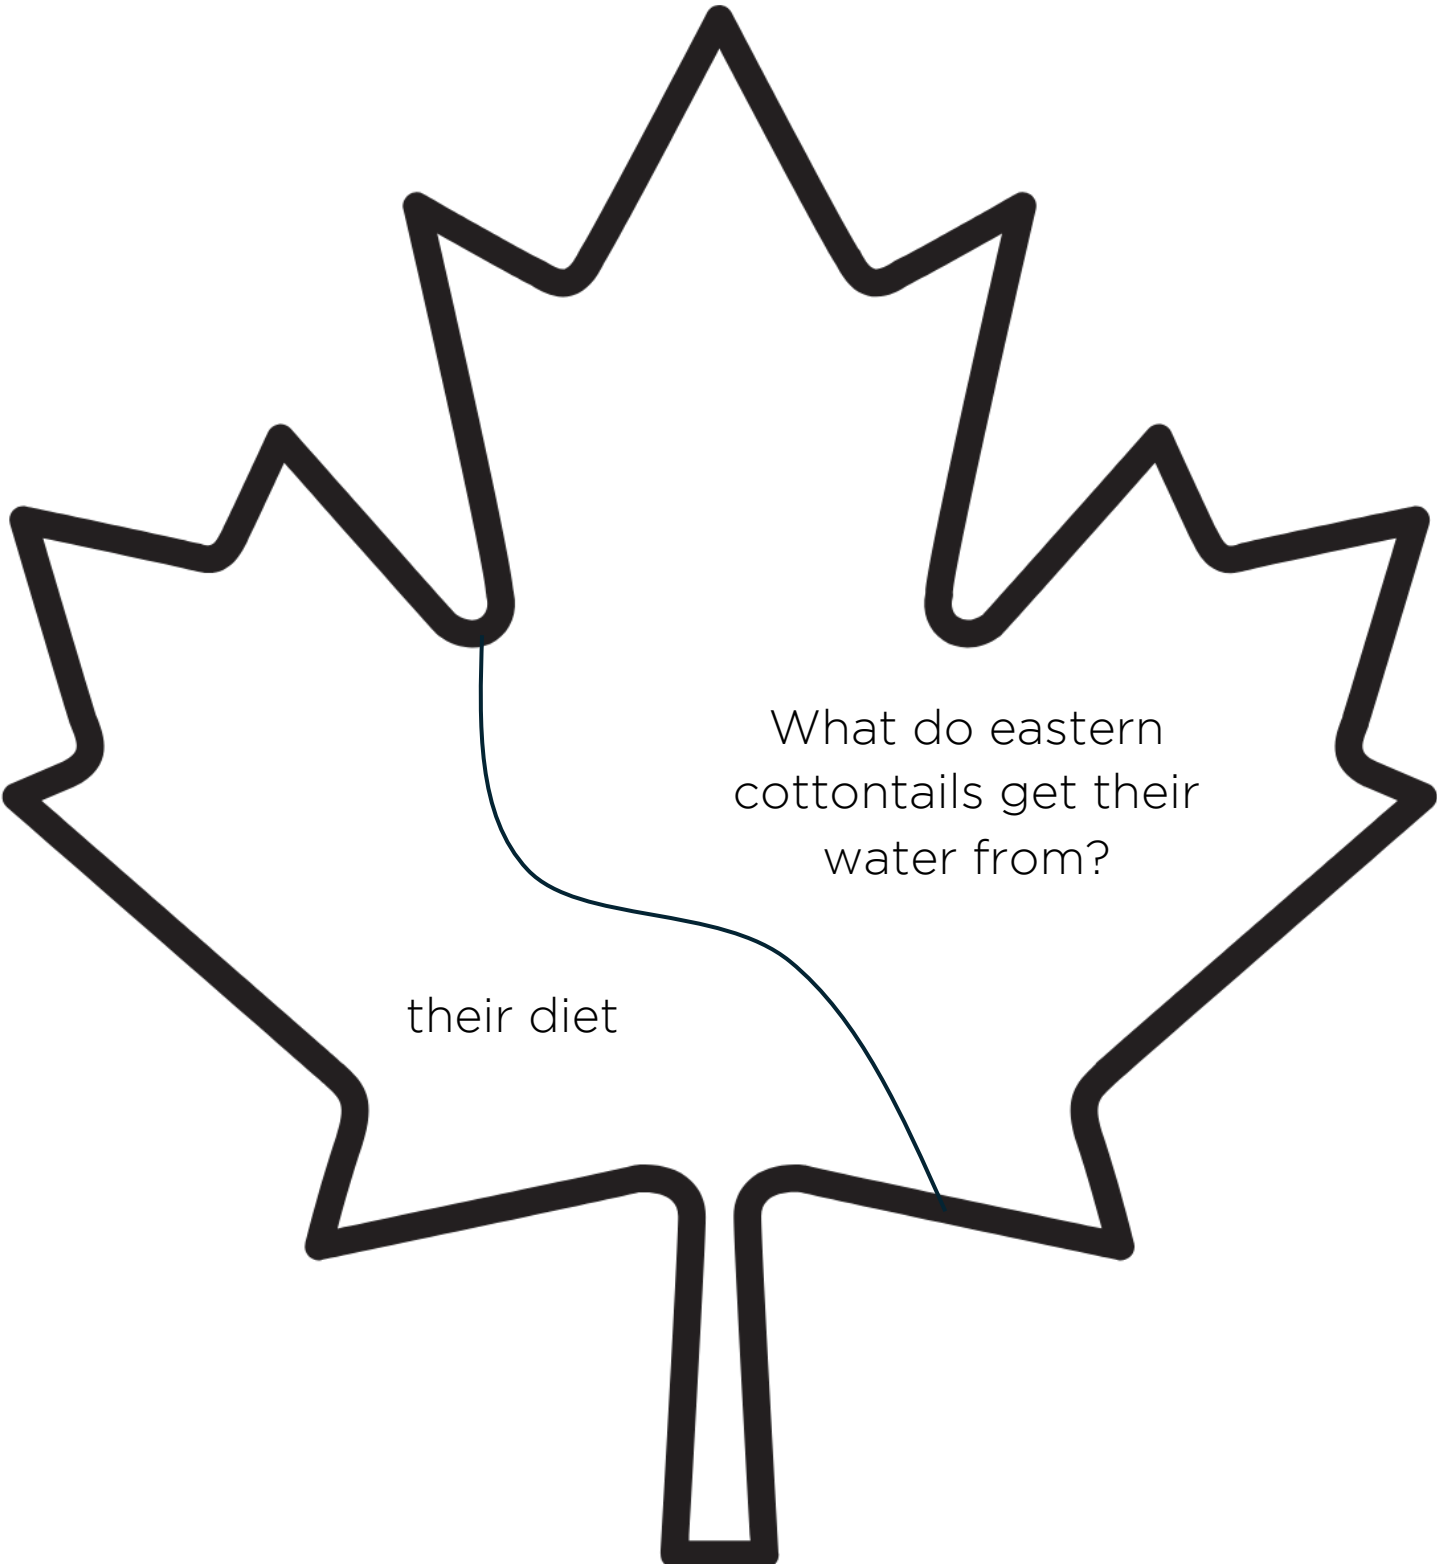

Answer on page 123

What is the
typical clutch size
of a northern
bobwhite?

12 eggs

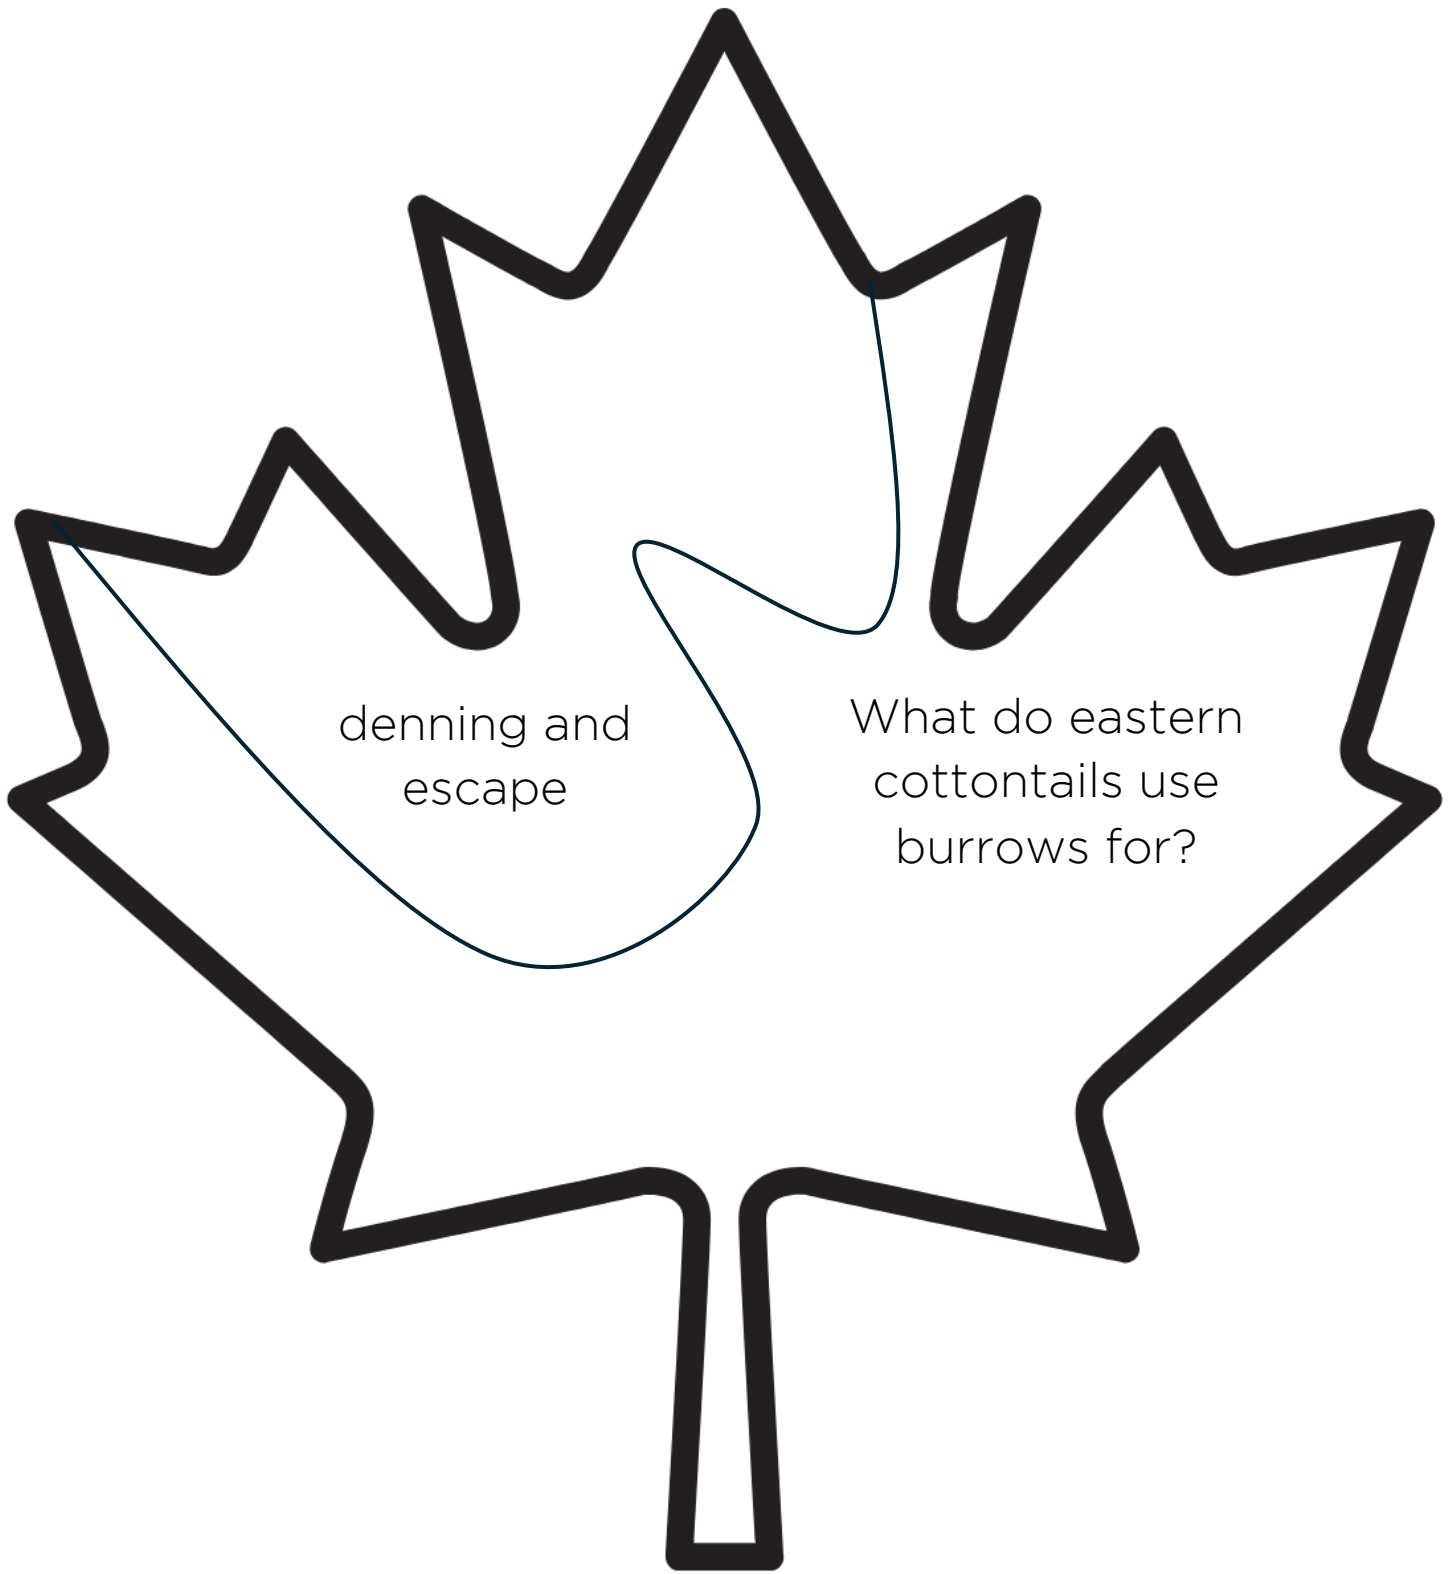

Answer on page 122

A large black outline of a maple leaf is centered on the page. Inside the leaf, there is a question and a line pointing to another text element.

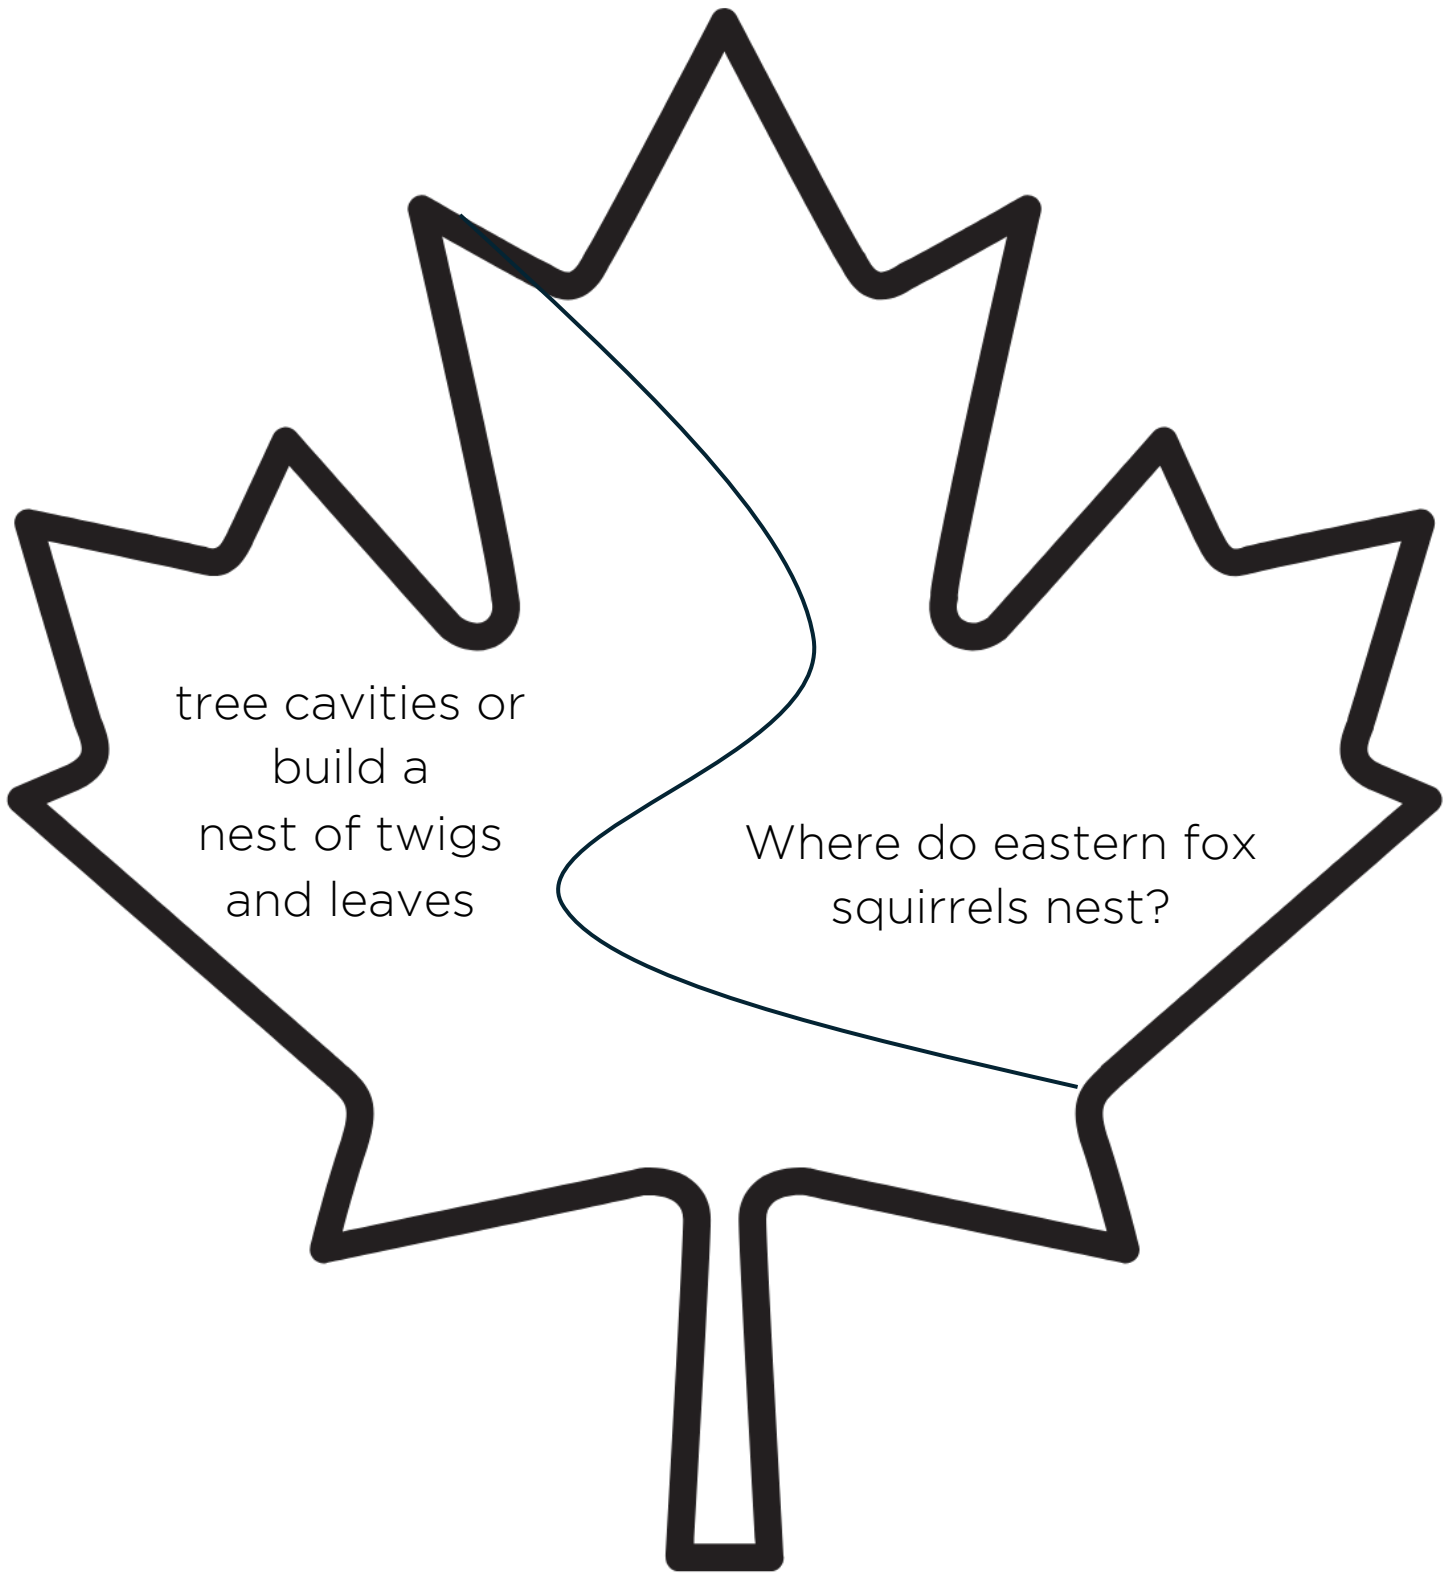

What do eastern cottontails get their water from?

their diet

Answer on page 173

Answer on page 173

tree cavities or
build a
nest of twigs
and leaves

Where do eastern fox
squirrels nest?

Answer on page 174

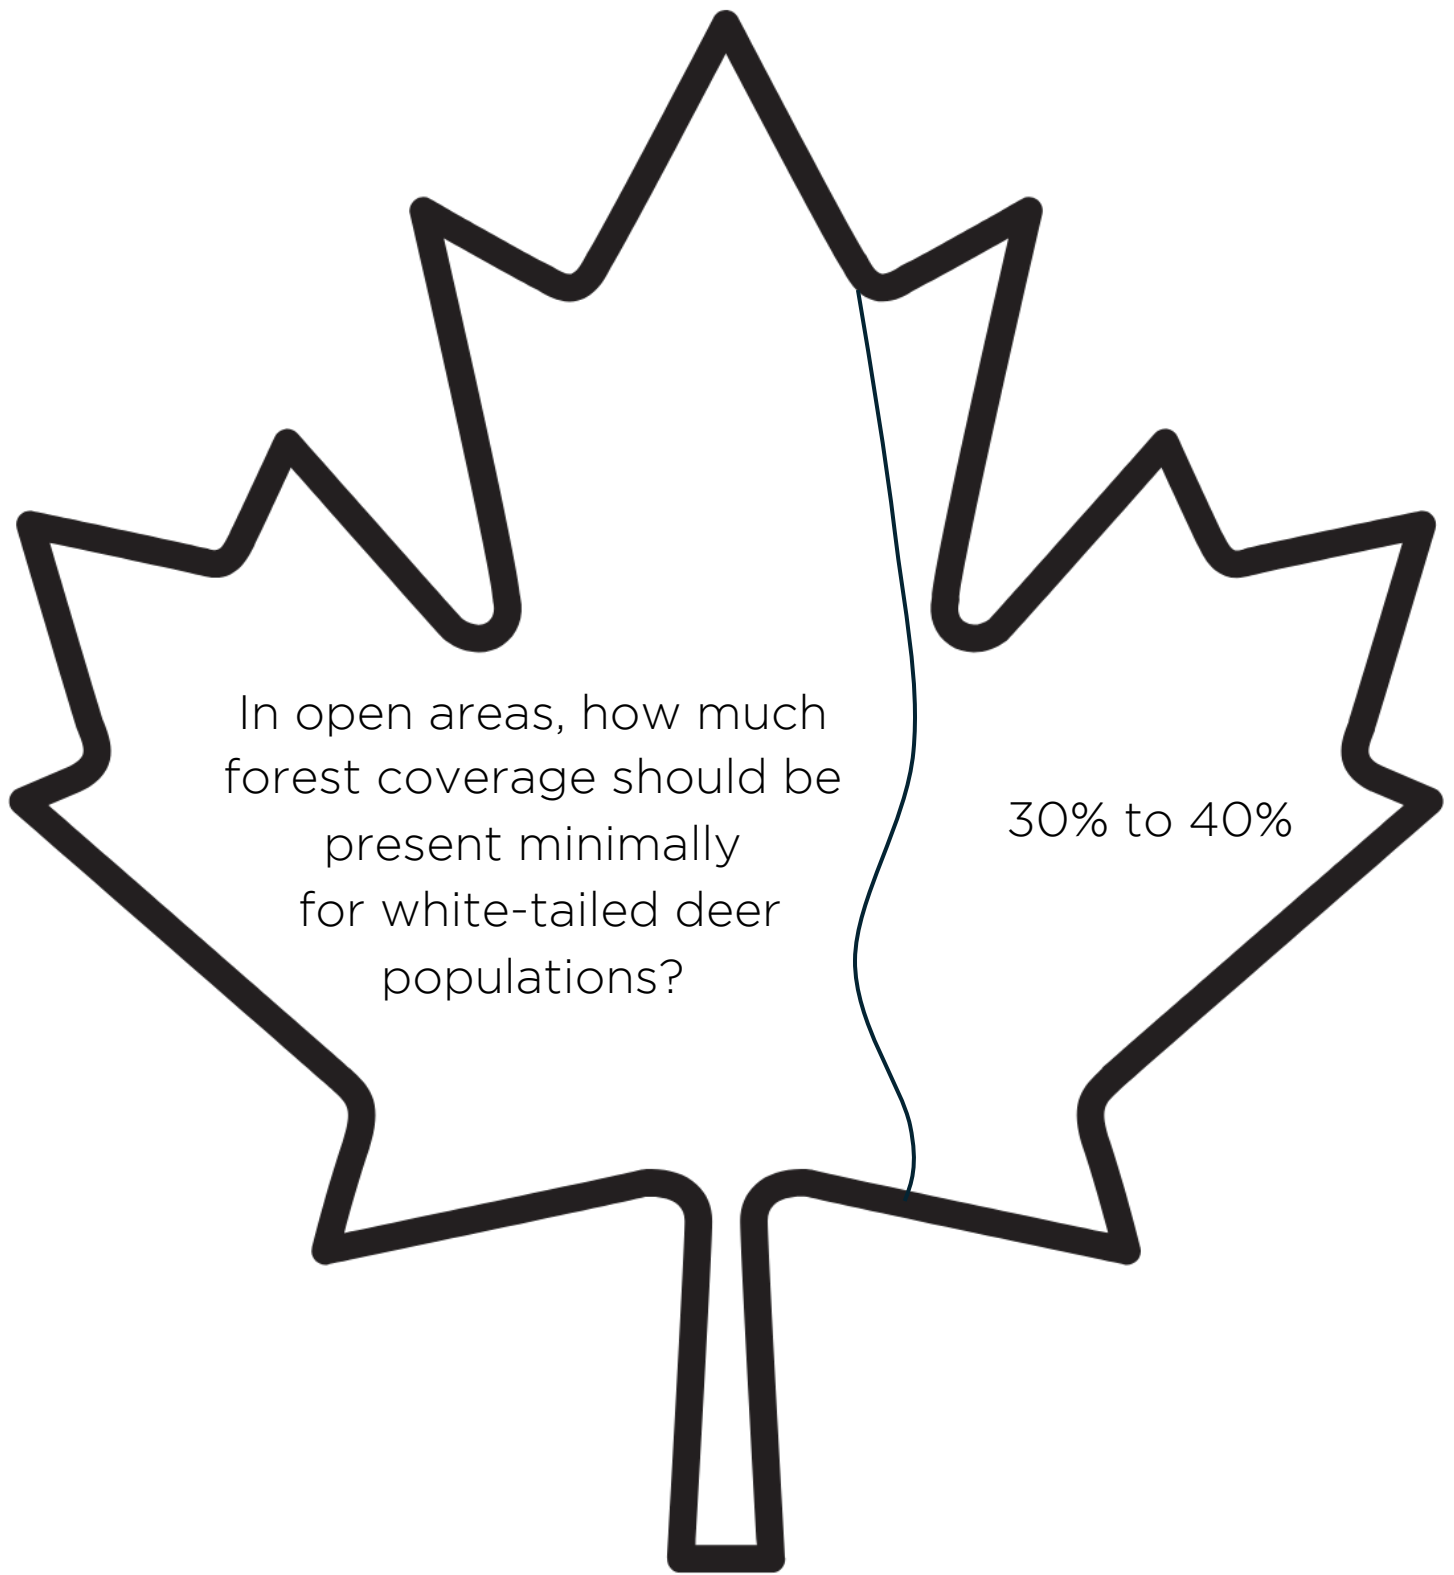

Answer on page 174

White-tailed deer are extremely _____ and are found in a wide variety of areas including deciduous and coniferous forests, tropical evergreen forest, dry grasslands, and shrub desert.

adaptable

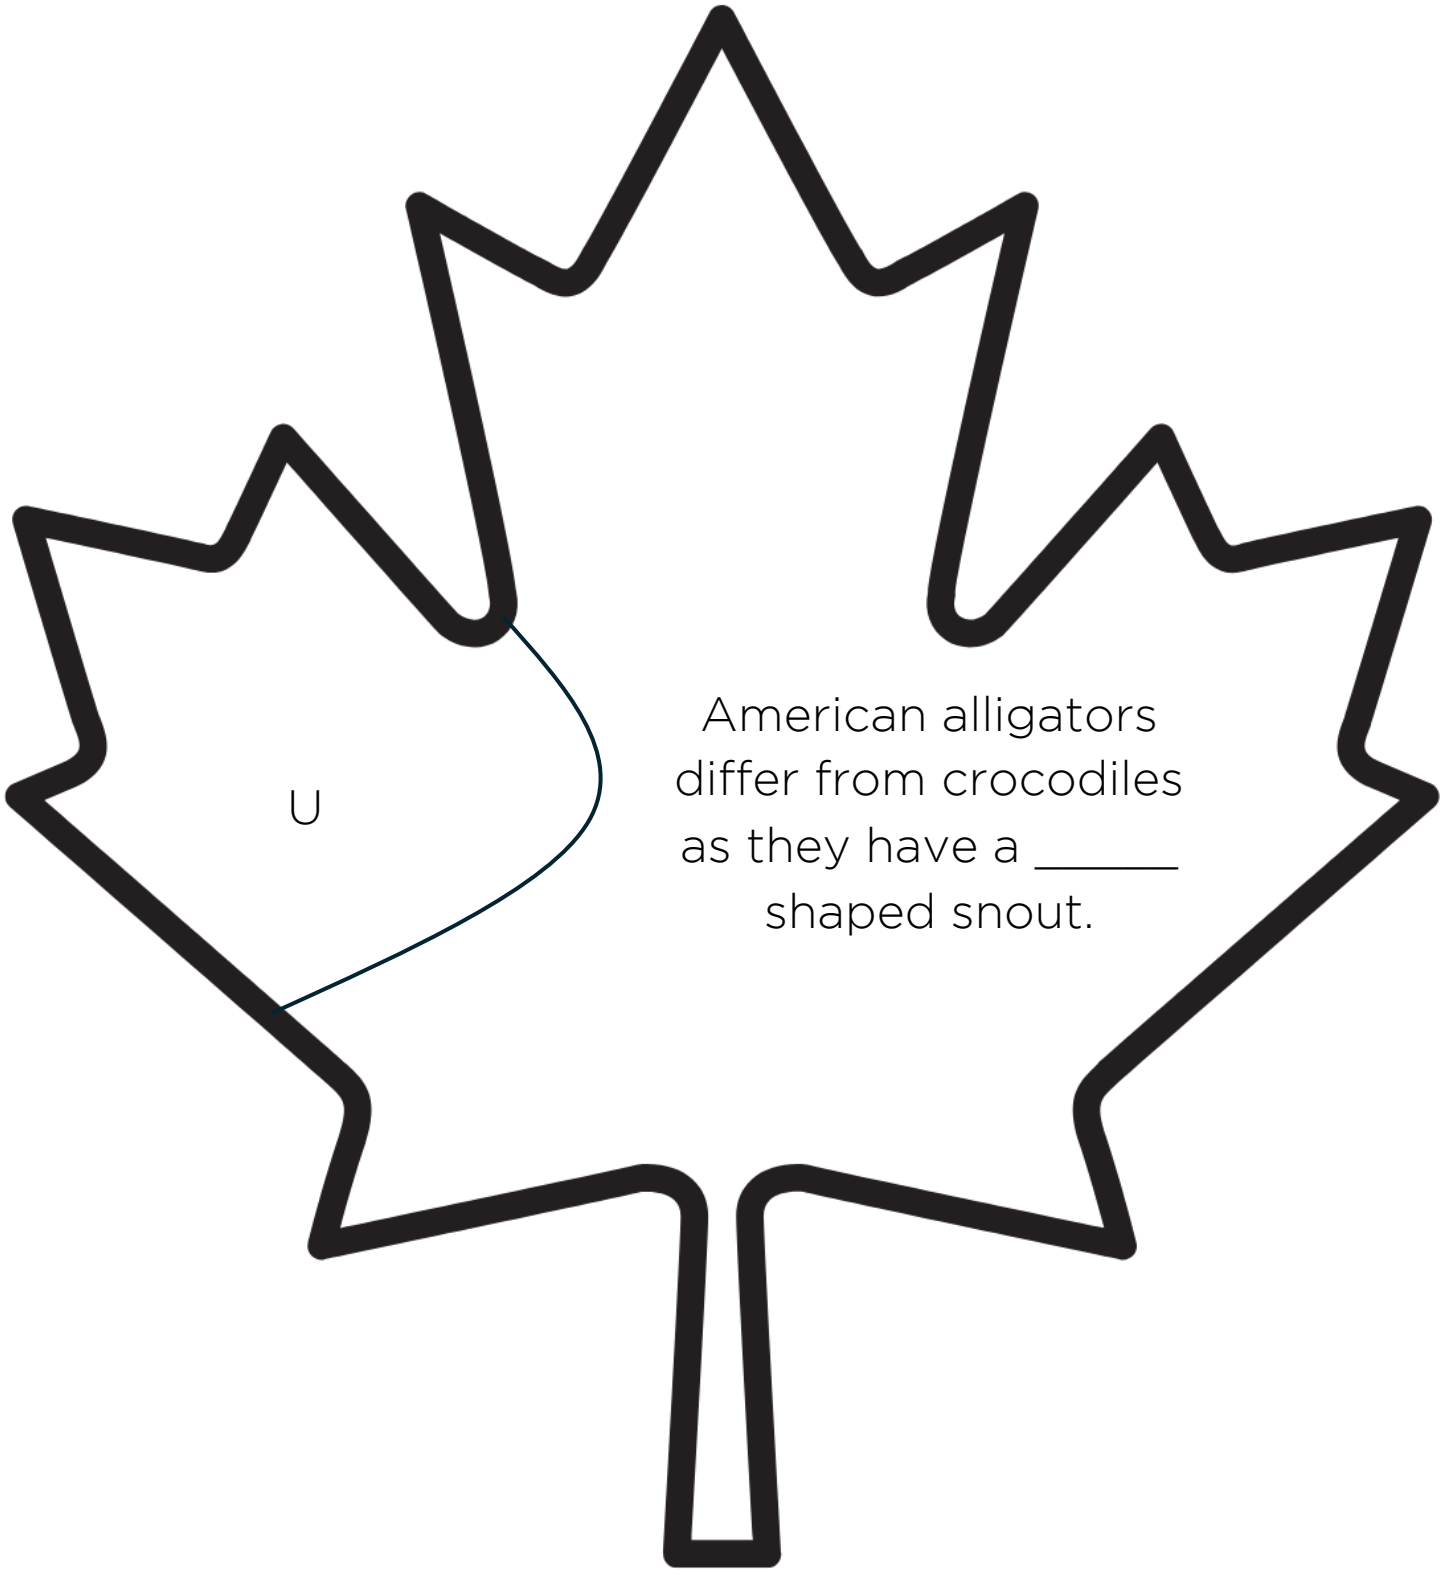

Answer on page 192

Answer on page 193

Answer on page 195

American alligators differ from crocodiles as they have a _____ shaped snout.

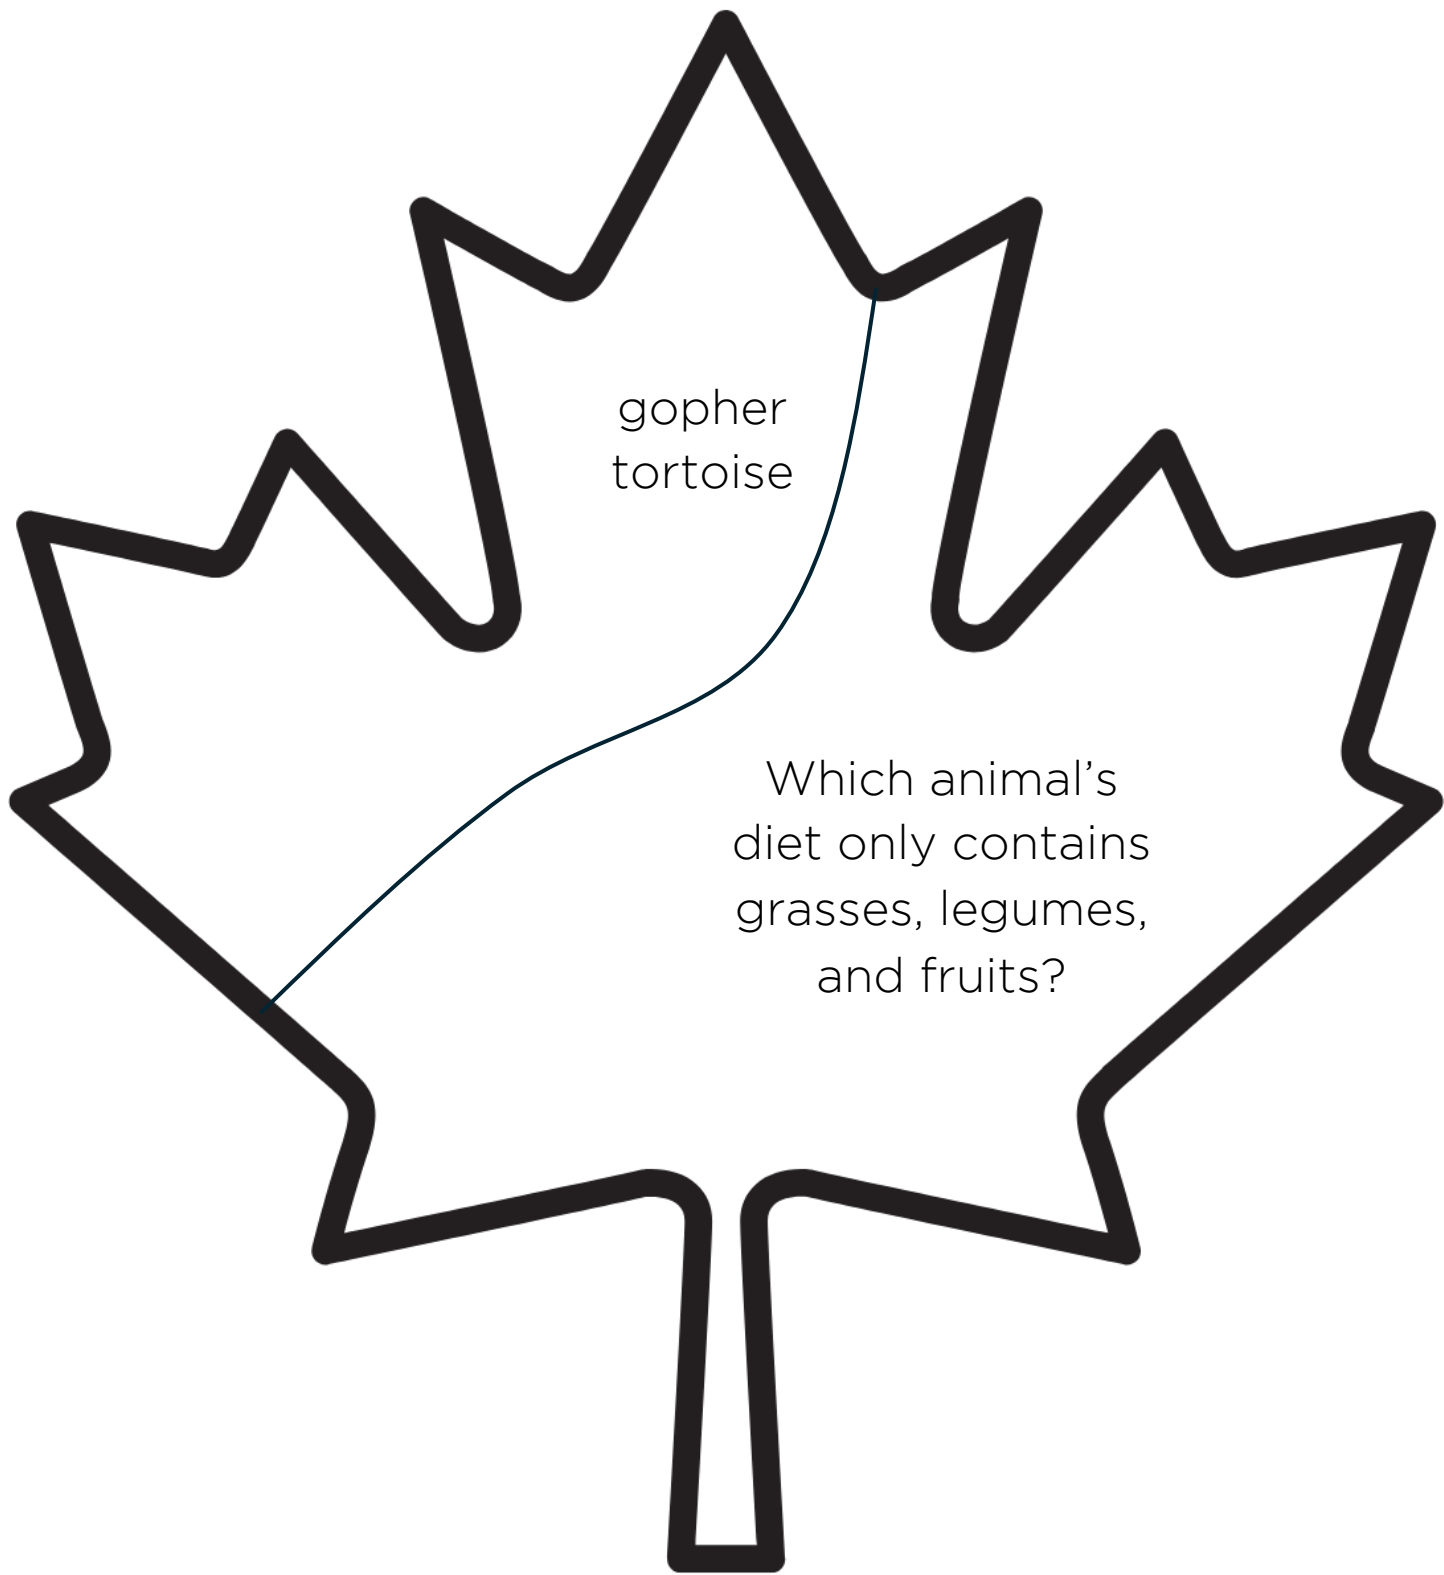

Answer on page 195

Which animal can dig burrows up to 20 feet long and 6 feet deep?

gopher tortoise

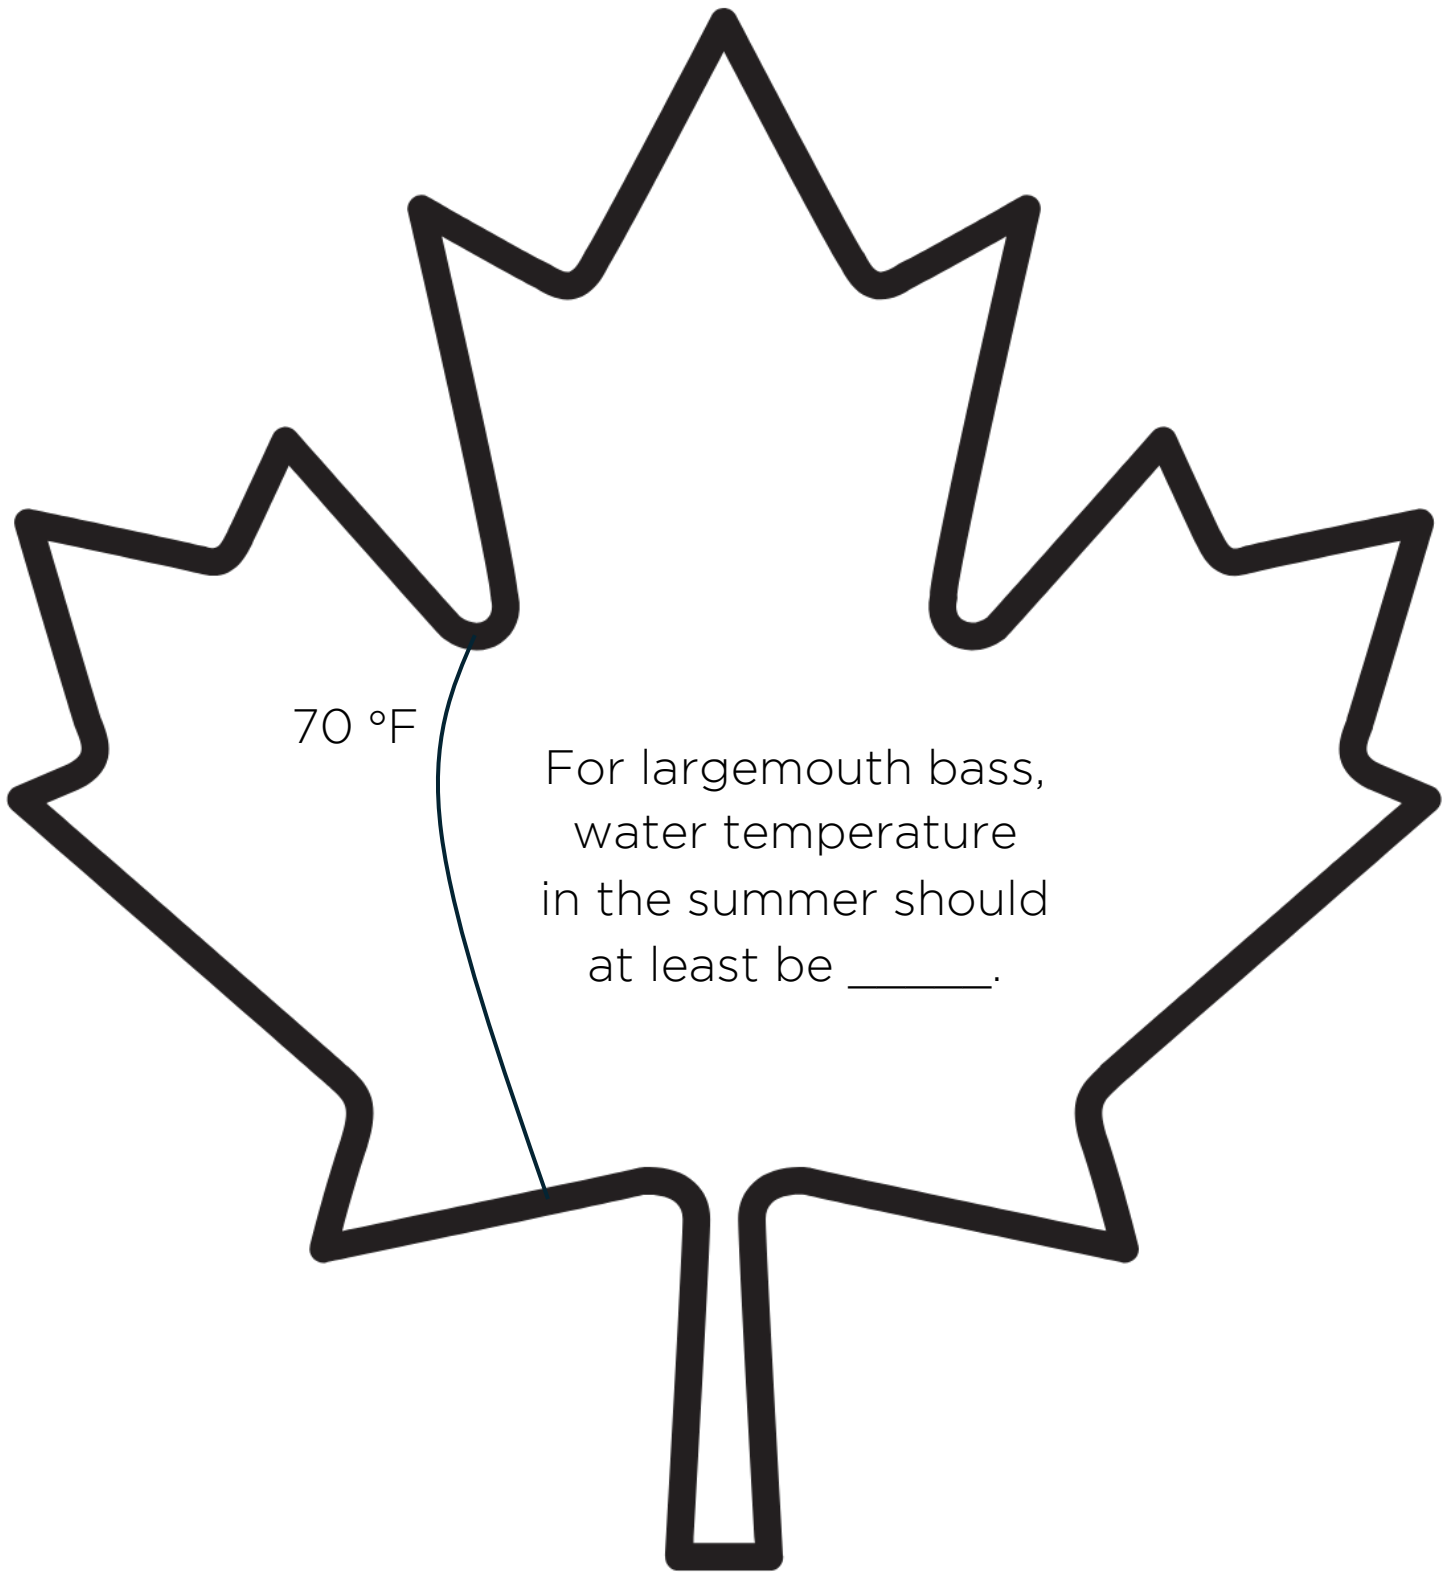

Answer on page 200

gopher
tortoise

Which animal's
diet only contains
grasses, legumes,
and fruits?

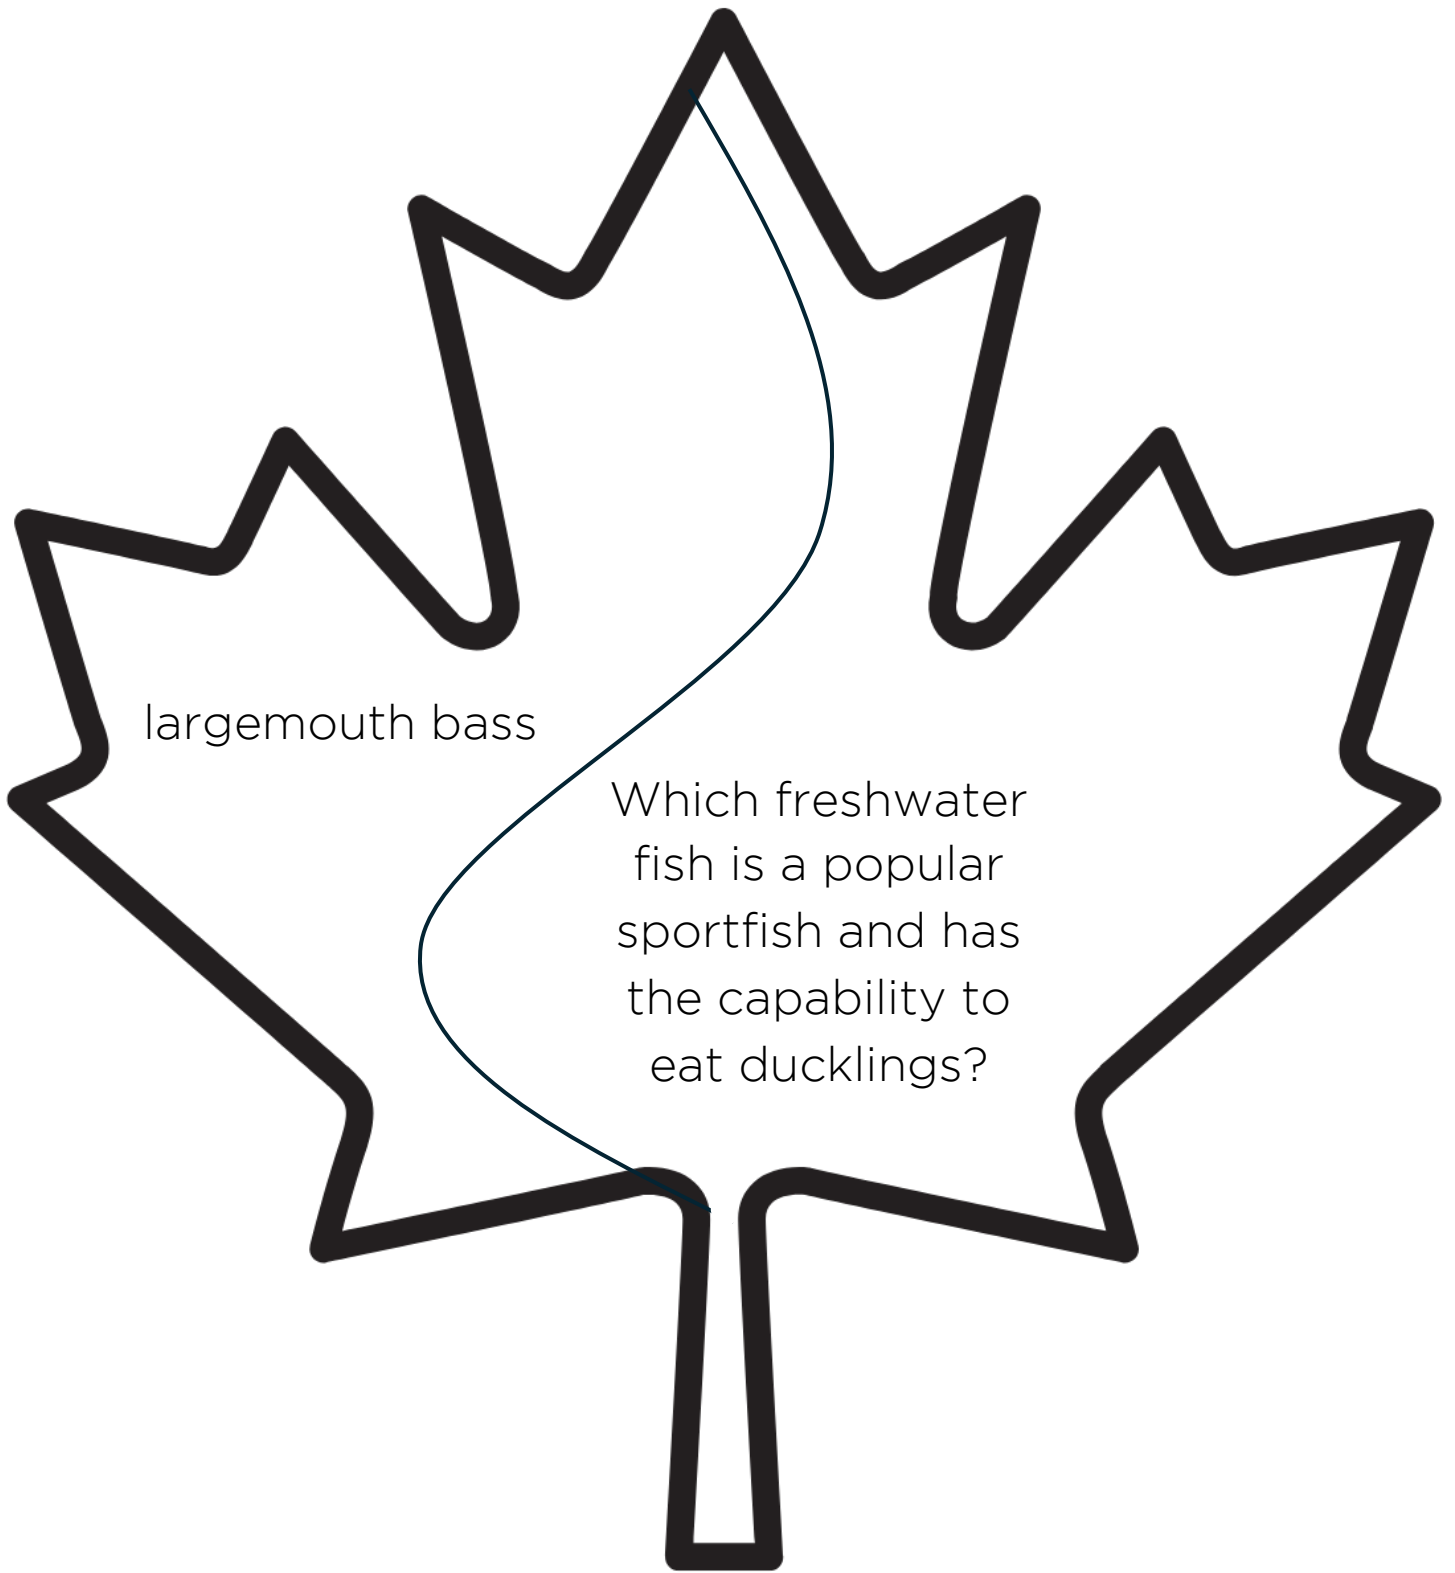

Answer on page 200

70 °F

For largemouth bass,
water temperature
in the summer should
at least be ____.

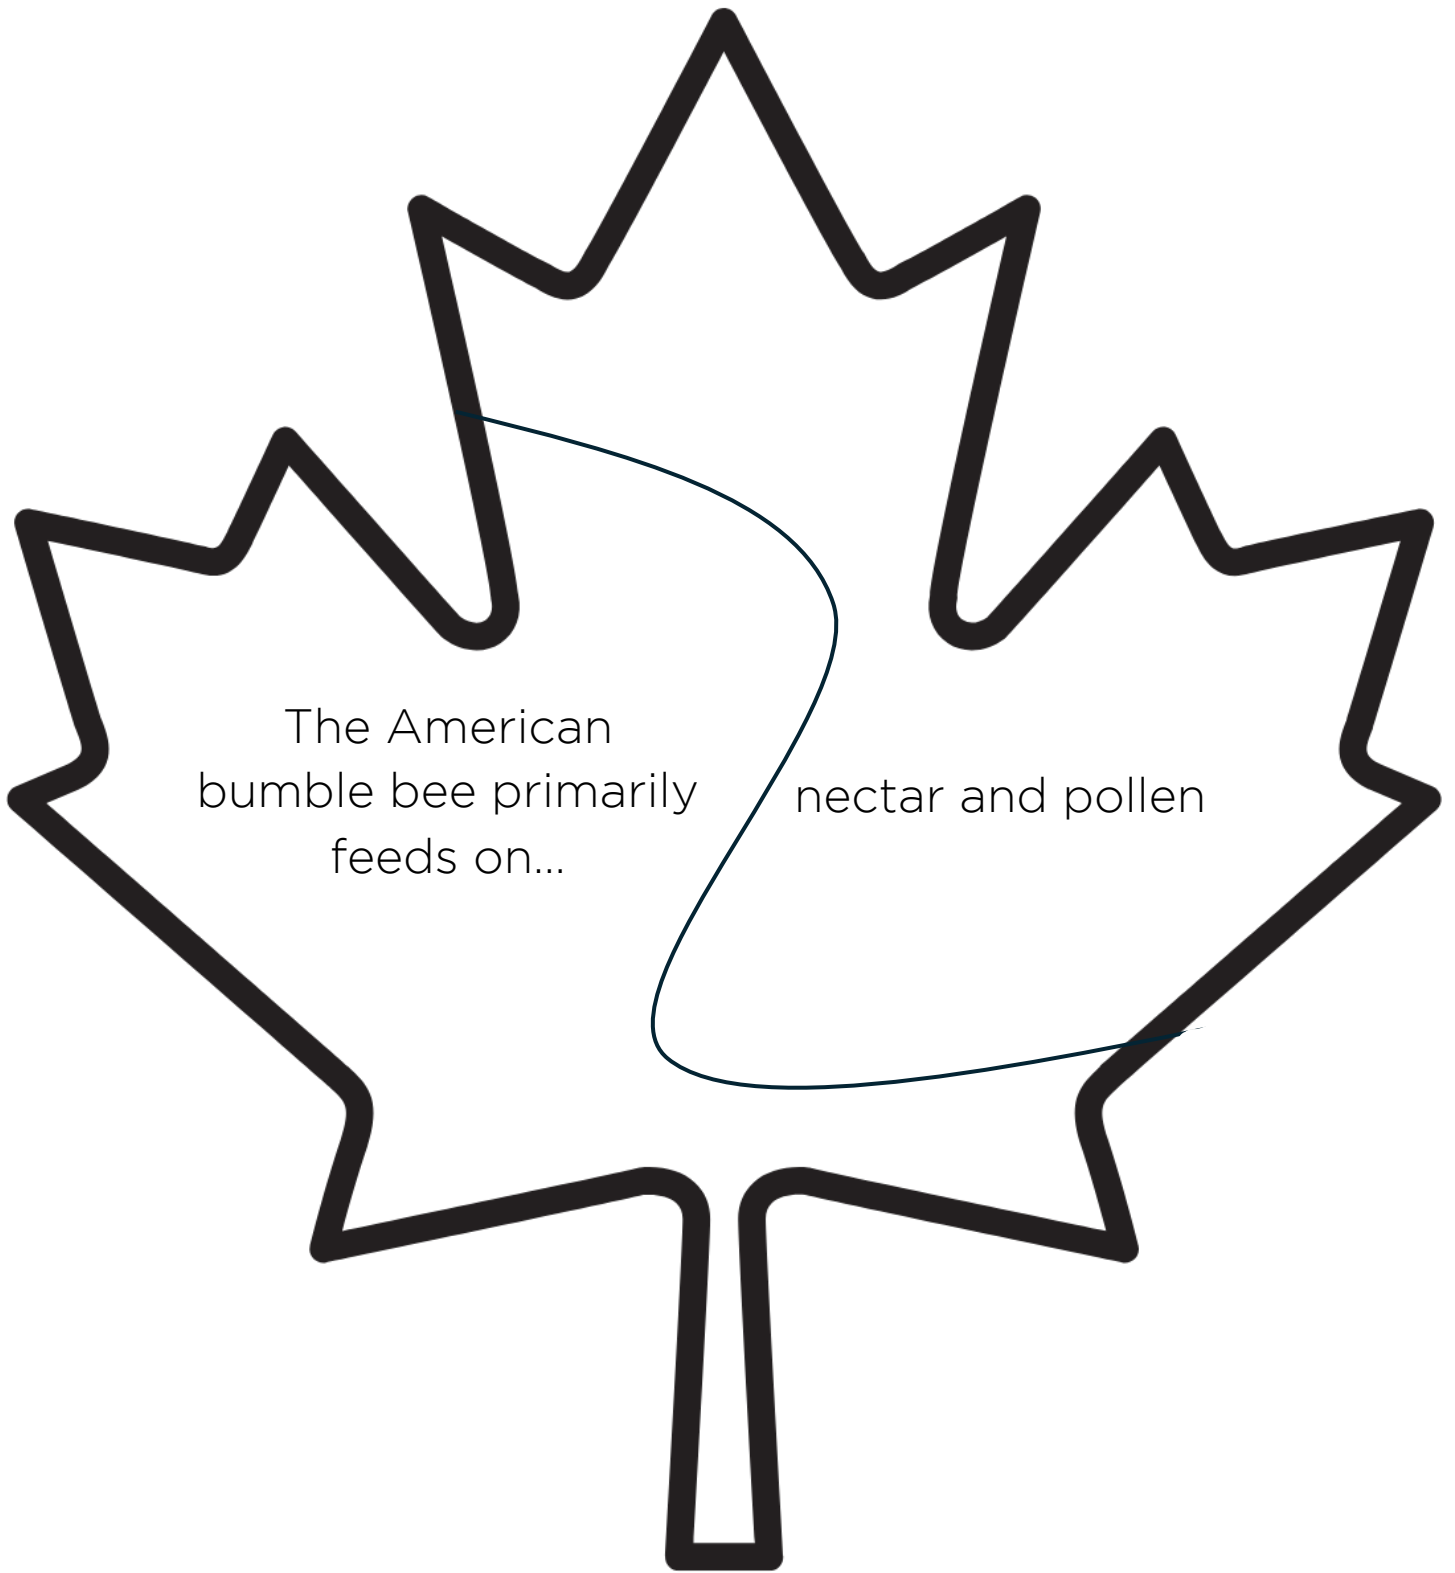

Answer on page 216

largemouth bass

Which freshwater fish is a popular sportfish and has the capability to eat ducklings?

Answer on page 216

The American
bumble bee primarily feeds on...

nectar and pollen

Answer on page 218

manage grazing

What can farmers do in livestock management
to assist the populations
of American bumble bees?

Answer on page 218